"The promise of Globe is a future-proof telecom making great things possible for every Filipino."

— Ernest Cu, Globe President and CEO

EXCERPT OF PRESIDENT AQUINO'S SPEECH

From the onset, Globe has been a leader of the industry. Today, you have a modern, advanced base of over 30 million people.

But we can never tell our people around the world, your history is written in a thousand years, and all of us know that to stay competitive, we must be up to date. With Huawei, we're not just doing another. Peak knowledge and expertise for the benefit of Filipinos, we can be certain that we will be able to keep up with global standards in the field of telecommunications.

I am pleased that one of the most respected companies in the Philippine has chosen to work with strong, reliable, and world-renowned partners. Built upon technology and innovation, I trust you'll have a strong role in the Philippine network of the future. I am glad to see that partnership with one of the largest and most successful companies in the country. This is truly a day of celebration of our confidence in the Philippine.

Telecommunications is a predictable force for growth and progress. It is not just of the national network system that allows for the flow of knowledge, they build roads along and make telecommunications infrastructure to be able to move. But we must have to get the road out about the products and services, which from the top to the bottom of their organizations, need to communicate with each other, consumers need to give feedback. The consumer-based more competitive, and also about for a time, more efficient, faster of telecommunications and innovation. A healthy telecommunications sector leads to a healthy economy—affordable, cutting-edge jobs, and more opportunities for our people to be employed here.

Let's let the flow of information, energy, and equity reflect the Philippine. "Doing great things together" is a great thing for our countrymen and is a thing that is a great thing to reach out to the future because it is a great thing to be able to give direction to the countrymen, both when it is a great thing to be able to give direction to the countrymen, both when it is a great thing to be able to give direction to the countrymen, both when it is a great thing to be able to give direction to the countrymen.

Landco and Roxaco clarify news report

Landco Pacific Corporation (Landco) and Roxaco Land Corporation (Roxaco) released a joint statement to clarify a news report in the Philippine Star dated February 23, 2010, page B-1. "Roxaco properly relinquishes control of Punta Fuego Developer."

This is not exclusively related to Punta Fuego and Properties Management Corporation (PMPAC), the corporation acquired by Roxaco, as the developer of Punta Fuego. The developer of Punta Fuego is not Landco Pacific Corporation. The correct statement should have been: "Roxaco properly relinquishes control of Punta Fuego and Properties Management Corporation."

Roxaco and Landco continue to be partners in the development of Pampanga de Punta Fuego with Landco as developer and Roxaco as landowner. They are also partners in Punta Fuego Land Corporation as co-developers of services on Punta Fuego with Roxaco as landowner as well as partners in Punta Fuego Development Corporation which holds a controlling stake in Club Punta Fuego, Inc.

Landco Pacific Corporation is the developer of high-end leisure communities, resort-inspired condominiums and luxury home communities. Holcim profit falls 47% to P2.03B

Concrete manufacturer Holcim Philippines posted a net profit of P2.03 billion last year, down 47% from P3.86 billion in 1990, as cement demand and high energy costs put a damper on its bottom line.

In a statement published in Manila, the company said its net profit fell to P2.03 billion due to a range in price of cement and electricity, which accounted for the biggest cost components in cement production.

"The environment in 1991 was certainly tough but Holcim remains committed to business growth and will continue to seek opportunities to improve its cost structure and efficiency," said the company.

The company's long-term outlook also remains unchanged and it will continue to invest in its plants and facilities to meet the growing demand for cement in the Philippines.

where δ is the distance between the two points, ρ is the density of the material, and μ is the shear modulus. The shear modulus is a measure of the material's resistance to shear deformation. It is defined as the ratio of shear stress to shear strain. The shear modulus is a function of the material's properties and is typically measured in Pascals (Pa). The shear modulus is a scalar quantity, meaning it has a magnitude but no direction. It is a property of the material and is independent of the shape and size of the object. The shear modulus is a measure of the material's stiffness and is a key property in the design of mechanical systems. It is used to calculate the shear stress and strain in a material under load. Here, you meet all the life-size animals you can imagine roaming prehistoric lands: dinosaurs, mammoths, bison, horses, camels, sloths, and more. The all the modern living animals, too, like zebras, giraffes, meerkats, and kangaroos, are here. The exhibits are arranged in a way that tells the story of the evolution of life on Earth, from the first simple cells to the most complex organisms. The museum is a great place to learn about the history of life on Earth and the amazing diversity of the natural world.

However, during its brief history, evidence of Twentieth-century theatre has been scarce and has often not been brought to light in the manner that it requires. This magazine is one of the first to do so, and it is a pleasure to see it, and to see the work of the Twentieth-century theatre, in the pages of this journal.

As a leader, your job is to help others grow and succeed. The only way to do this is to be a good listener. This means you need to be able to hear what others are saying, not just what they are saying to you. You also need to be able to understand what they are saying, not just what they are saying to you. And finally, you need to be able to respond to what they are saying, not just what they are saying to you.

For example, many think it is more environmentally sound to have a single-use plastic bottle than a reusable one. In fact, plastic bottles are made of a type of plastic called polyethylene terephthalate (PET), which is made from petroleum. PET is a type of plastic that is not biodegradable and can take up to 1,000 years to break down in the environment. In fact, PET is one of the most common types of plastic found in the environment. It is also one of the most difficult types of plastic to recycle. In fact, only about 10% of PET bottles are recycled in the United States. The rest end up in landfills or in the ocean, where they can harm marine life. So, while it may seem like a single-use plastic bottle is more environmentally sound than a reusable one, the reality is that it is not. In fact, reusable bottles are a much better option for the environment.
